

Sponsorship Information

The conference is hosted by members of the six statewide professional code organizations in Virginia. The training and networking opportunities provided will increase the knowledge of attendees in a variety of areas. We are anticipating 300 or more attendees in the following professional areas: permit technicians, building officials, fire professionals, code enforcement, inspectors, engineers, architects, contractors, and others who are interested in codes and code development for all disciplines.

As a sponsor, you will have a great opportunity to advertise and bring awareness to your organization directly to those in attendance. VCEC is offering the following sponsorship opportunities.
